USP: I often surprise myself with my performance, let alone others...

Objective

To make my own headlines!!

I'd rather be a guy who has big dreams and no money than a guy with no dreams and big money. Decisive, action oriented and result focussed professional with leadership and team building skills. I encourage innovation and aspire a position as a product or project manager that will allow me to apply my managerial and technical skills and experience in production of leading edge information solutions.

Experience

I have over 7 years worth of experience packed in the 4.5 years I have been working. I started as a Software Engineer in a small sized company, grew to be a Team Leader and managed a team of 14 people in what was now a medium sized company. Left to start my own company with a few friends, successfully grew it for over 2 years before wounding up with a lot of lessons learnt and experience gained. Now working in a start up company and involved in creating the next-gen video advertising platform...
